

Resume North Bombing

Action Withheld Earlier To Check Developments

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Pentagon announced today the resumption of the U.S. air war against North Vietnam.

The brief announcement said only that the bombing pause had been continued after the end of the lunar new year "in order to avoid any possibility that earlier resumption would be misconstrued in relation to Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin's visit to London."

Wilson Is Sure Peace Can Be Made

Feels Now Is Good Time To Make Big Peace Overture

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson said today he believes a peaceful solution to the Vietnam war "could now be reached" despite the lack of the immediate success in his week of talks with Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin.

Wilson was reporting to the House of Commons on his talks with Kosygin only hours after the Soviet leader left for Moscow.

The gap between the two sides in the Vietnam war, Wilson said, "is not unbridgeable, given a realistic appreciation of political and military factors involved, and above all, given a belief on each side that the other desires a negotiated settlement." Then he added: "I believe that a solution could now be reached."

He went on: "If the present opportunity is missed, we must not give up hope. The road to solution remains open."

But only three hours earlier a joint communique showed clearly that the two leaders had been unable to find a way to start the peacemaking process despite long hours of patient probing and discussion. They pledged, nevertheless, to keep plugging for a peaceful settlement.

No Effect From Racial Strike Move

DETROIT (AP) — A so-called racial strike — dubbed a "new tool of protest" by its sponsors — appeared to have had little or no effect in its early hours today in Detroit.

Spokesmen for both the city-operated bus system and General Motors, both of which employ large numbers of Negroes, indicated that workers reported in normal numbers on their first shifts.

The strike was called by Negro leaders in protest over what they called "double-standard treatment" by Congress of Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y.

Strike committees in Detroit and Muskegon called upon Negroes to stay away from their jobs and to keep their children out of school. The strike call brought some dissension in the Negro community.

Detroit's Negro population is around 90,000.

Rep. Powell, pastor of a Harlem church, has been stripped of his committee chairmanship by House colleagues and denied his congressional seat until an investigation of his activities is completed.

Strike sponsors contend standards used to measure Powell's fitness have not been applied to other committee chairmen and representatives.

Humphrey To Speak At Westminster

Hubert H. Humphrey, vice president of the United States, will deliver an address on ethics and foreign affairs on the Westminster College campus in Fulton on the afternoon of March 5, 1967. His appearance, announced today by the College President, Dr. Robert L. D. Davidson, will be the 24th in Westminster's Green Lecture Series, which brings outstanding world figures to the Westminster campus.

Downtown Saigon

In Daring Mortar Attack On Military Nerve Center

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — Viet Cong gunners made a daring mortar attack on the nerve center of the U.S. military command in downtown Saigon today. The headquarters wasn't hit, 12 Vietnamese were killed and 40 were wounded, and an explosion blew up the house from which the attack came.

Allied ground operations resumed Sunday a few minutes after the end of the four-day lunar new year truce proclaimed by the South Vietnamese government.

Tells Pope Red Terms Must Be Met

TOKYO (AP)—President Ho Chi Minh of North Vietnam told Pope Paul VI today that unless his country's peace terms are fulfilled real peace cannot be restored in Vietnam, the Vietnam News Agency (VNA) said.

President Ho repeated Hanoi's old stand in a reply to a papal expression on Jan. 8 of hope for an early peaceful settlement of the Vietnam war. He was quoted by VNA as saying:

"The U. S. imperialists must put an end to their aggression in Vietnam, end unconditionally and definitively the bombing and all other acts of war against the Democratic Republic of Vietnam, withdraw from South Vietnam all American and satellite troops, recognize the South Vietnam National Front for Liberation (Viet Cong) and let the Vietnamese people settle themselves their own affairs."

"Only in such conditions can real peace be restored in Vietnam."

Virtually dashing peace efforts by the Pope, President Ho instead called on the Pope to use "his high influence to urge that the U.S. government respect the national rights of the Vietnamese people."

He listed peace, independence, sovereignty, unity and territorial integrity "as recognized by the 1954 Geneva agreements on Vietnam."

Late Bulletin

WARRENSBURG, Mo. (AP) — Two persons were reported killed today in the crash of a light plane about four miles northwest of here.

Sheriff Harland Tempel said two other persons in the single engine plane were injured. Officers said they had no other information on the plane.

Riddled

REDDING, Calif. — Shasta County Sheriff's Deputies and the California Highway Patrol had to fire about 58 rounds into the motor of this Greyhound bus early Sunday to stop Arthur Woynowski, 54, Central Valley, who is now charged with stealing the bus from the Redding depot. He was stopped 35 miles north of Redding and now is in the County Hospital. (UPI)

ONE KILLED—Pettis County's fifth traffic death of the year was recorded shortly after these two vehicles collided on west Highway 50 near the junction of County Road MM early Sunday morning. The top vehicle, a 1965 Buick, was driven west on the highway and was the vehicle in which six-year-old Denise Beth Sieck, Omaha, Neb., met her death. Also in that car were Mrs. Leona Baldwin, the girl's mother, and Wendell P. Baldwin, her step-father. The car in the bottom picture, a 1964 Ford, was driven by Jack Merritt Sheffer, 30, 804 Ruth Ann Drive. It was headed east. Four persons were hurt in the mishap. (Democrat-Capital photos.)

Nebraskan Killed

Two-Car Collision Takes Fifth Pettis County Life

A six-year old Omaha, Neb., child, Denise Beth Sieck, became Pettis County's fifth traffic fatality of 1967 as a result of a two car collision on U. S. Highway 50, west of the County Highway MM junction. The accident occurred about 6:20 a.m. Sunday.

W. Germans Have No Cash To Buy Arms

BONN, Germany (AP) — Foreign Minister Willy Brandt told U.S. leaders in Washington West Germany has no funds to buy American arms in the second half of 1967 and there will even be a small gap in the amount promised for the first half, an informed source disclosed today.

This could lead to cuts in U.S. forces stationed in Germany.

West Germany has a two-year agreement expiring June 30 to buy $1.35 billion worth of American arms. This buying is designed to offset the gold and dollars the United States pays out to keep American troops in Germany.

Up to now West German leaders have insisted that this agreement would be fulfilled. Figures given out by West German finance authorities, however, have never accounted for $25 million to $30 million of the total. It now appears that this sum will not be paid.

Nor is there money in the 1967 budget to pay anything after June 30. The source added that prospects for 1968 are also dim and Brandt made this clear in Washington.

Brandt returned Sunday from seeing President Johnson and other American leaders. He was to report to Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger today.

Home, Two Sheds Destroyed By Fire

WARSAW, Mo. (AP)—A home and two sheds were destroyed and another home was damaged Sunday by a brush fire that spread over 100 acres several miles west of Warsaw along the Henry-Benton County line.

Sheriff Lawrence M. Phifer of Warsaw said sparks from a trash fire apparently started the blaze.

"We still don't know who owned the house that burned," the sheriff said. The residence apparently was vacant.

day and the cars involved sideswiped, reports indicate. Her mother, Mrs. Leona Baldwin, 39, and a sister, Connie Allsman, 11 years old, received minor injuries while the dead girl's stepfather, Wendell P. Baldwin, 54, suffered a fracture of the left collar bone and bruises.

The child was lying on the left side of the rear seat and was asleep when the cars collided. She was pronounced dead on arrival at Bothwell Hospital by Dr. C. Gordon Stauffacher, Pettis County coroner. Dr. Stauffacher rendered medical treatment to Baldwin, his wife and stepdaughter Connie, all

Six Bodies Are Taken from Ruin Of Burned Home

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — Firemen recovered six bodies from the charred interior of an old folks' home near Brussels today but said possibly another dozen victims were missing. A fire brigade lieutenant said the firemen were not called until "a good half-hour after the fire started."

Three firemen were injured, two seriously, fighting the blaze early today in the 100-year-old Chateau du Val Vert Green Valley Chateau. It housed nearly 100 old people.

The upper floors of the four-story structure were destroyed. The known dead appeared to have been in a third-floor ward where senile and seriously handicapped persons lived. Relatives said one legless person and a blind man were among the victims.

Lt. Dewert of the fire brigade said firemen rescued eight people with ladders, "but we had to force them down."

People from nearby homes rushed to help when the fire was first noticed. Brussels radio told of one woman who ran into the ground floor while the floor above was still burning and helped some people out.

who were released from the hospital.

The Baldwins were headed west on Highway 50 in a 1965 Buick sedan after having spent the weekend on the Lake of the Ozarks. The second car, a 1964 Ford coach, driven by Jack Merritt Sheffer, 30, of Apartment 1B, 804 Ruth Ann Drive, was headed east.

Mrs. Baldwin, in discussing the accident, said "Those two horrible lights came directly toward us and we sideswiped." The Baldwins had just rounded a curve in the highway and gone approximately 300 feet west when the cars collided.

The left side of the Buick was smashed in while the left front end of the Ford car was extensively damaged. After the collision, the Buick spun around off of the highway on the north shoulder and headed back east. (Please turn to page 2, col. 7)

Red China Trying To End All Ties

TOKYO (AP) — Moscow Radio said Sunday Red China is apparently trying to wreck relations with the Soviet Union in an effort to prevent peace in Vietnam. But Foreign Minister Chen Yi reportedly asserted that China would not take the initiative in breaking diplomatic ties with its Communist neighbor.

Moscow and Peking traded accusations as a series of military moves related to Chairman Mao Tse-tung's purge was reported in China over the weekend. Troops facing the Soviet Union and the Nationalist Chinese on Formosa were put on the alert, the army took control of Peking and two of Mao's foes were ousted from the Communist party's military commission.

Anti-Soviet rallies drew 100,000 persons in Peking Saturday and 300,000 more in a number of other cities, the New China News Agency reported. It said effigies of Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and party leader Leonid I. Brezhnev were burned at one rally in Taiyuan.

Moscow Radio repeated a Soviet charge that the daily demonstrations outside the Soviet Embassy in Peking were slowing Soviet military and economic aid to North Vietnam because employees could not leave the embassy to expedite the shipments passing through China.

tar, the guerrillas were believed to have triggered a timing device that set off other mortar rounds. The explosion killed two policemen and a 9-year-old child and wounded 31 other policemen and civilians, Vietnamese authorities reported. Again there were no American casualties.

One 81mm mortar round landed in the front garden of a British Embassy official living about 500 yards from where the truck was hit. The explosion smashed windows and sent shrapnel flying through the living room, but no one was hurt.

A third shell landed on the roof of a chemical company, and a spokesman said a fourth round might have burst when it hit trees above the 25-vehicle army convoy.

U.S. authorities said it was believed the terrorists had escaped although at least one apparently was wounded. A great deal of confusion surrounded the incident, and the possibility was not ruled out that the mortar had accidentally blown up as

Tough Week Ahead

Major Bills Of Session Come Before Legislators

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Some of the session's major bills come before the Missouri Legislature this week, either on the floor or in committee.

When both houses returned to work late today they faced jammed calendars and a heavy schedule of committee meetings.

High on the list were the major school bills recommended by Gov. Warren E. Hearnes.

The Senate took its first look at the bill to provide state aid for kindergartens last week but its sponsor, Sen. A. Baise Vandlingham, D-Columbia, had to lay it over when time ran out on him.

Pending was an amendment by Sen. Earl R. Blackwell, D-Hillsboro, to guarantee that the money would actually be spent for kindergartens and not for some other school costs.

Changes in the school foundation formula, liberalizing it, and a bill to help fast growing districts by counting their estimated daily attendance for the current year instead of last year also are pending.

The basic pay increase bill on which many others depend also is high on the Senate calendar and Sen. Albert Spradling, D-

Cape Girardeau, said he would bring it up as soon as possible. It would raise the salary of the governor from $25,000 to $40,000 with comparable increases for all state elected officials and judges.

It would set the salary of legislators at $9,000 a year instead of $4,800 on the theory that being a legislator, with annual sessions now the usual thing, is virtually a full time job.

Opponents have indicated they will try to trim this figure, which has already been approved by the House. Amendments also are ready to cut the judicial salary scale.

First hearings were scheduled today on the congressional redistricting plan of Sen. Omer H. Avery, D-Troy, who would set up districts within about six per cent variation from the population norm.

It has run into opposition from southeastern Missouri legislators and newspapers because Avery's 10th District would run all the way from southern St. Louis to the Arkansas line in a narrow strip along the Mississippi River.

Three southeastern Missouri Democratic senators—Nelson B. Tinnin of Hornersville, J. F. Patterson of Caruthersville and Spradling of Cape Girardeau—have announced they will try to change this situation and extend the 10th District into what is now part of the 8th.

Parishes Plan Lenten Dialogue

The parishioners of St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church and Calvary Episcopal Church will engage in dialogue for five Wednesday evenings during Lent. This coming Wednesday evening, February 15, at 7:30 p. m., parishioners of both churches will meet at Calvary Church for prayers and sermon, following which participants will meet in the Parish Hall to engage in dialogue and discussion of Christian faith and practice.

The following week the meeting will be held in St. Patrick's Church. The clergy of both parishes will take turns preaching the sermon. Laymen of both parishes will participate in leading the devotions and in reading the lessons.

The purpose of a gathering such as this is clearly in the spirit of ecumenism that is abroad in Christendom today, according to the participating churchmen. More specifically, they point out, Christians of two different traditions will have the opportunity to come together in one place, to engage in such devotions as are common to both traditions, and to explore together the heritage of Christian faith and life.

Accidents

Slight damage resulted to a 1962 Ford coach which went into a ditch on County Highway H about eight and a half miles north of Sedalia, about 8:45 p.m. Sunday. No injuries were reported.

According to Trooper Charles Pieper, of the State Highway Patrol, the car was driven by Johnny William Martin, Jr., 18, Corder, Mo. Martin, according to Trooper Pieper, said a car ahead of him stopped suddenly because of some cattle on the road and he slid off into the ditch.

A farmer residing nearby pulled the car from the ditch and the youth was able to continue on.

A 1964 Pontiac hardtop sedan was extensively damaged about 11 p.m. Sunday when it struck a guard rail on U. S. Highway 65 about seven miles north of Sedalia. The driver, William Edward Points, 22, 417 West Fifth, received a slight cut on the chin.

Trooper William Southwick, of the State Highway Patrol, reported Points was headed south and as he was making the curves on the north end of the new highway, the car started skidding near the center line, veering off to the left, traveling about 123 feet and striking a barrel set at the point as a warning. The car skidded about 129 feet more before striking the guard rail on the left side and coming to a stop on the east shoulder of the highway.

The left front end of the car was extensively damaged. The windshield was cracked in several places.

Bacon's wrecker towed the car to Sedalia.

Police apparently were not called to a pedestrian-car accident about 5:05 p.m. Sunday in the 600 block on South Ohio, but an accident report, filled out at the police station, indicated the pedestrian received an injury in the case.

Police listed James C. Davis, 17, Kansas City, as the pedestrian. The vehicle involved was a 1964 Plymouth driven north on Ohio by Burt Carr, 17, Route 2, according to police records.

The police accident report was signed by Patrolman Edward Laird, who said in the report, police had not been called to the accident. Davis, according to Laird, came to the station to make the report. The police information shows Davis as having suffered a fractured bone in the left foot, but authorities at Bothwell Hospital listed the injury as a contusion.

No apparent damage occurred to the motor vehicle.

Fires In City

An apparent "smoke scare" resulted in a run by Sedalia firemen at 6:47 p.m. Sunday to the home of Jennie Perkins, 618 North Monticau. On arrival, firemen said, they found no fire. The cause for the smoke was not listed.

Sedalia firemen responded to a grass fire call at 2:28 p.m. Sunday to 1619 Honeysuckle. No damage was listed.

Firemen said a cigarette in a waste basket may have been the cause of a fire at 8:10 a.m. Monday at the Virgil Rodgers residence, 2401 South Quincy. They reported damage to the home came to about $100, with the same amount of damage estimated to the contents of the house. This was the 70th call Sedalia firemen have answered this year.

Donald W. Mills, Green Ridge, driving 45 miles an hour in a 35 mile-an-hour zone, forfeited a $10 bond.

Roscoe Caldwell, 301 East Fourth, disturbance of the peace, forfeited a $25 bond.

Jeanne O. Ford, 2215 West Second Street Terrace, failure to pay two overtime parking tickets, forfeited a $7 bond.

Marc A. Miller, 116 South Prospect, failure to purchase a city sticker, forfeited a $10 bond.

Jim Burlongame, 816 East Seventh, failure to purchase a city sticker, forfeited a $10 bond.

Roscoe Caldwell, 301 East Fourth, failure to appear as a prosecuting witness, forfeited a $5 bond.

Mrs. Ernest Bentz, 817 West Third, failure to appear as a prosecuting witness, forfeited a $5 bond.

Steam-O-Matic Back In Operation Tuesday

Employees of Rival Manufacturing Co., Steam-O-Matic Division here will report back to work Tuesday rather than today, as was reported earlier, plant officials said. They added that all personnel, except those in the "molding department," would be returning Tuesday. Molding department employees will be notified when they are to return.

The return to work follows recent completion of contract negotiations which had shut the plant's operations for over ten days.

Negro Leaders Okay Reapportionment

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Negro leaders here approved a reapportionment plan for the First Congressional District in the St. Louis area. The plan is aimed at electing a Negro as U.S. Representative.

The plan has received the endorsement of Rep. James P. Troupe Sr., D-St. Louis and the Committee on Fair Congressional Apportionment. The plan would place areas in the north part of the city, where the Negro population is concentrated, in the First District.

Rep. Troupe said he would introduce the plan in the Missouri Legislature.

Reapportionment of Missouri's 10 Congressional Districts has been ordered by a three-member special federal court and upheld by the U.S. Supreme Court.

The Viet Cong fired at the command center.

The attack on Westmoreland's block-wide, fenced-in headquarters between two busy streets had been carefully prepared. The Viet Cong had moved into a two-story house about eight blocks away and removed several sheets of tin roofing to make the firing hole for their s.w.e.d-off, American-made 81mm mortar. Sighting lines to the U.S. compound were scribbled on the walls.

The wounded included 15 children.

Two men were seen jumping from a window of the house just before it blew up, a spokesman said, and one might have been wounded when police opened fire. Blood spots were found later.

One of the terrorists was seen getting into a cab. The spokesman said the cab driver was found and is being questioned. Residents of the area reported seeing a woman running from the scene.

The blast damaged seven other buildings.

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge's residence is two blocks from where the mortar round hit the truck convoy.

The attack was the first major Viet Cong terror incident since the lunar new year truce began. The Viet Cong had called for a seven-day truce that would have run until Wednesday morning but the proposal was not accepted by the South Vietnamese government.

There was no official announcement in Saigon or Washington of the prolongation of the truce in the air war against the Communist North, but all indications were that U.S. fighter-bombers have not been on the attack there since the four-day truce began last Wednesday.

A U.S. spokesman in Saigon declined to say if U.S. pilots were maintaining reconnaissance flights over the North as they did throughout the truce. But he reported traffic movements in the North which indicated that the aerial lookout was continuing.

The spokesman said 40 to 50 trucks were sighted this morning moving north along Route One, 14 boats were seen moving south and other vessels were beached from Vinh Down to Dong Hoi.

The Communist Vietnam News Agency reported that two U.S. planes were shot down Sunday over the outskirts of Hailphong and Nam Ha Province. The U.S. Command in Saigon made no announcement of any such losses. But with the resumption of the air war in the South, a U.S. Air Force F100 Super Sabre jet crashed Sunday while making a napalm attack on a suspected Viet Cong base camp 25 miles southeast of Saigon. The pilot was killed.

U.S. B52s also resumed their bombing raids in South Vietnam Sunday and were back in the air today. The bombers flew in from Guam for two strikes on suspected guerrilla base camps and storage areas 44 and 50 miles north northwest of Saigon. Sunday they raided an enemy headquarters 300 miles northeast of Saigon and a Red base camp 75 miles northwest of the capital.

JuCo Student Charged With Setting Fire

NEOSHO, Mo. (AP)—A Crowder Junior College student was charged with arson after another weekend fire was started in Neosho.

Paul Torre, 18, of Brooklyn, N.Y., was being held under $2,500 bond.

Sheriff Forrest Land said Torre did not ask for a lawyer and refused to answer questions. He will be arraigned Tuesday.

The sheriff said two young girls gave police an automobile license number after they saw a fire being set in a truckload of hay parked behind the Newton County Historical Museum early Sunday.

Firemen quickly put out the blaze in the truck. They had been owned by Troy Cartherm of Stark City, Mo.

Other fires, all on weekends in recent months, destroyed the Big Spring Inn, the Community Recreation Center, the Full Gospel Tabernacle and a grocery store. A man died in the Big Spring Inn blaze.

22 Missouri Cities Receive Citations

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Twenty-two Missouri cities won awards or honorable mention in the 1966 Clean Up-Paint Up contest.

Gov. Warren E. Hearnes was advised of the honors by the national Clean Up-Paint Up-Fix Up bureau in Washington. Missouri ranked second in the number of cities entered.

Distinguished Achievement awards went to Butler, Carthage, Gallatin, Jamesport, Mountain View, Neosho, Perryville, Ridgeway, Ste. Genevieve, St. Louis, Steelville, Stover, Warsaw and the Lafayette area.

Cities receiving certificates of honorable mention were Bloomsdale, Fairfax, Florissant, Nevada, Shrewsbury, Sullivan and Sumner.

Immediately after the crash Sheffer hurried to the Baldwin car and as they got out and seeing Baldwin hurt, took his coat and placed it around his shoulders. They then flagged down a passing motorist who picked up Baldwin, his wife and two children and rushed them on to Sedalia and the hospital.

Mrs. Baldwin suffered bruises on her head, chest and knee and her daughter had a laceration on the nose.

Sheffer and his passenger, Steve Von Dracek, 28, also of 804 Ruth Ann Drive, were taken to the Sedalia Police headquarters by Trooper Pete Stohr, of the State Highway Patrol, and questioned, and later Von Dracek was taken to the hospital for examination for an injury to his nose. After examination and treatment by Dr. Ira White, he was released.

The body of the child was taken to Ewings Funeral Home, and Sunday evening was taken to the Wadlow Funeral Home in Lincoln, Neb., accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin and Connie Allsman.

The Baldwin car was towed from the scene by Parks wrecker while Sheffer's car was towed to Sedalia by Bacon's wrecker.

Denise Beth Sieck was born in Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 10, 1960.

Surviving are her mother, Mrs. Leona Baldwin, her stepfather Wendell P. Baldwin, half sisters Connie Allsman, and Mary Allsman, 16, of the family home; and Mrs. Cathy Stano, Denver, Colo. Grandmothers Mrs. Nellie Sieck, Lincoln, Neb. and Mrs. Justine Lintel, Crofton, Nebraska.

Ann Landers Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: I am 70 years of age and I'm on the job every day. My mind is good, in fact a lot sharper than some of the younger men I work with. But something has happened that has made me wonder if maybe I'm getting a little crazy. Is it possible that I am growing a new head of hair?

I've been partially bald for many years and it has never bothered me. I wouldn't go across the street for the best hair-growing remedy in the world. About six months ago I noticed some new hairs sprouting up in places where I used to be bald.

My friends and relatives keep nagging me to share my secret. I don't know what to say anymore. When I tell them I'm not doing anything they get mad and accuse me of fibbing. Have you ever heard of this before? What's it all about? — CONSHARNED

Dear Con: It doesn't happen very often, but occasionally hair that has gone into the "resting phase" will become active and grow again. It is not possible to bring dead hair follicles back to life, but apparently your follicles weren't dead. Dad, they were just inactive. Hooray for the second crop.

Dear Ann Landers: Please tell me why it is that no matter where you go these days, no sooner do you get your coat off but someone asks, "What will you have to drink?"

When I say, "I don't care for anything, thank you," they look at me as if I was a freak. Then the nagging starts—"Come on, let me fix you a light one." Or — "Maybe just a short beer?" When I say, "I really don't care for anything," they let loose with the questions: "On the wagon?" — or "Do you have ulcers?"

I was taught that anything that makes people uncomfortable is poor manners. In my opinion, pressing people to have a drink after they have refused is boorish. What's a person to do? — RESENTFUL

Dear Re: The host who offers you a drink the minute you step into the house is trying to be hospitable. Once you have said, "No, thank you," that should settle it.

The easiest solution is to ask for ginger ale or tomato juice or a glass of water. The host will then not feel that he is drinking alone, which I suspect might be part of the problem.

Dear Ann Landers: I love my mother very much even though I know for certain she is having an affair with a married man. Every time I think about it I go to pieces.

If my father found out it would break his heart. Also I'm afraid it would end in a divorce and this would finish me. I know how awful it is to have

Medicare Is Blamed For Cash Shortages

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Medicare, which became effective last summer, has been blamed for shortages of cash among hospitals in the St. Louis area.

Hospital administrators say the cash problem is caused by a delay in approval and payment of Medicare accounts maintained by the various hospitals.

The administrators say that while the Social Security Administration is slow in paying off the accounts, current obligations such as payrolls and bills for supplies must be met.

A past president of the Missouri Hospital Association, John Eckrich, who is administrator for the Lutheran Hospital at St. Louis, said as of Dec. 31 his hospital carried a Medicare account of $169,000. Eckrich said the Social Security Administration

Chagrin Is Deepened
LIVERPOOL, England (AP) — Liverpool University students have deepened the chagrin at Walton jail where five men escaped at Christmas time in a rash of holiday breaks from celebrated "Rag Week" by painting their cryptic motto "Panto 67" on an inside wall after breaking in commando style with a rope scaling-ladder and escaping without detection.

Key to Greater Amity...

Americans are: Trigger happy, crude, brash, vulgar, back-slapping, boastful, materialistic, nonintellectual, dollar crazy, sex mad, jingoistic, credulous and neurotic. America is: Wall Street, gang wars, pretentious cars and people with too much money.

That's what Britons think.

The British, in their turn, are: Degenerate, lazy, arrogant, unprogressive, pauperized, snobbish, standoffish, ungrateful and soft on communism. Britain is: Carnaby Street, miniskirts, daffy castles and stiff upper lips.

That's what Americans think.

Not all of the 54 million inhabitants of the British Isles believe these things about Americans. Of course, nor do 196 million Americans entertain such simple ideas about the British. But a considerable number on both sides of the Atlantic are guided in their attitudes toward each other by clichés, stereotypes, pat generalizations and half-truths.

Despite a common language and cultural history, there exists a serious communications gap between Britain and America. The adjectives and opinions cited above were garnered from American and British mass media in a survey conducted by the Edward L. Bernays Foundation. It found that even history textbooks in both countries are biased and filled with national prejudices.

Believing that mutual understanding between the two democracies is vital to the future of the free world the foundation is offering a prize of $5,000 for the best practical suggestions that could be used by government, private organizations, voluntary groups and individuals for improving this understanding.

The award is open to anyone, anywhere. Entries must not be more than 5,000 words, typewritten, double-spaced, on one side of the paper. They should be sent to the Edward L. Bernays Foundation, 7 Lowell St., Cambridge, Mass. 02138, and be postmarked not later than midnight, June 30, 1967.

Entries will be judged by a distinguished jury of three intellectual, refined and sober Americans and three humble, hardworking and friendly Britishers.

CHICAGO SUN TIMES: The Dietrich Affair — Marlene Dietrich wants to return to Germany and make a movie based on her career. She's now an American citizen, having left Germany during the Nazi regime. But some Germans, it seems, don't want her back. They consider her a traitor.

Well, now. It's unbelievable that anybody would reject Marlene Dietrich. There's simply no accounting for tastes. The protesting Germans would be the losers, certainly, and the gainers would be whatever people she chose to remain among. Anytime she wants to come here, the door is open.

Yet there's another troubling aspect to this affair. Could it be German guilt at work? The Germans, it seems to us, want to reject Miss Dietrich for doing what they themselves should have done.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

New Blueprint for Crime Prevention

JACKIE'S IRON WILL

On Sept. 17, long before the furor over the Manchester book, Jack Anderson reported that "Jacqueline Kennedy, an iron-willed woman beneath the fragile beauty," had determined to control the news regarding her husband's assassination.

Anderson revealed for the first time Jackie's letter to Jim Bishop stating, "I hired William Manchester — to protect President Kennedy and the truth... If I decide the book should never be published—then Mr. Manchester will be reimbursed for his time. If I decide it should be known—I will decide when it should be published."

What happened is now history.

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — In his plans to combat crime, President Johnson might take a look at an excellent blueprint for crime prevention advocated by young Rep. James Scheuer, D-N.Y. Scheuer proposes that $100 million be spent on a new approach to the causes of crime.

What few people realize is that the FBI, the government's No. 1 detective bureau, had no funds for federal crime research until 1966 and then only $200,000. In the meantime, the national institutes of health spend $1.3 billion a year for research into cancer, etc. The Agriculture Department also earmarks $139.8 million a year for crop and food research.

Meanwhile, crime in the U.S. costs over $27 billion a year. A man is shot to death every 30 minutes; there's a rape every 26 minutes; a robbery every 5 minutes; an aggravated assault every 3 minutes; a car theft every 1 minute; a burglary every 28 seconds; a larceny every 12 seconds.

The seizure of narcotics rose 60 per cent from 1962 to 1965. Auto theft costs about $500 million per year. Yet the fact is that a policeman has little more to work with than he had 30 years ago — a pistol, a nightstick, in some cases a can of tear gas.

To bring us up to date, Rep. Scheuer has proposed a national institute for crime prevention and control which in part would provide the Justice Department and local law enforcement agencies with a research arm comparable to that of the national institutes of health.

The crime institute would engage in many activities, including improvement of training and weapons of police officers, criminal behavior research, demonstration projects dealing with the cause of crime, and better involvement of the public in law enforcement.

"It's shocking to hear of people watching a murder in the streets and refusing to do anything because they don't want to get involved," says Scheuer. "We must assure witnesses full protection and educate people to report crimes immediately. The institute also would promote greater use of technological capabilities in crime detection, than are now being used."

Looking Backward

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Clergymen are not eligible for new tires, according to a ruling received by the Pettis County Rationing Board, from the state administrator. The local board has not been approving such requests.

FORTY YEARS AGO

The semi-annual jail cleaning was finished by the street department and the place made to look as spick and span as possible. The finishing touches included spraying of cockroach liquid over the cells and walls to make the place sanitary. During the past two months the knights of the road visited the jail for shelter six to 17 a night.

Scheuer suggests, for example, that taxicabs, a target for holdups, be equipped with a button signaling device that would activate an infrared attachment on street-corner lamp post, or mailboxes, notifying police. He also advocates the use of knock-out pellets, instead of bullets, in police guns which would immobilize escaping criminals without lethal effect.

"We use such pellets on bears in Yellowstone Park when they threaten human beings," the New York congressman points out. "Why not on human criminals when they refuse to submit to custody? Why shoot them down if they attempt to escape from a car theft or a misdemeanor?"

MGM Lion Roars

There was more than meets the eye behind the letter which Sen. "Long John" Sparkman of Alabama sent to six mutual funds warning them, in effect, to keep hands off the bitter Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer proxy fight. The six mutual funds own 900,000 shares of MGM stock and their vote could tip the balance in the knock-down, drag-out battle between Robert O'Brien, now head of MGM, and Philip Levin, the New Jersey real estate operator who covets control.

Sparkman's letter was the equivalent of saying: "Keep out of this battle."

Then suddenly, one week later, Sparkman backtracked. He issued a statement that his letter was not designed to "influence any stockholder or to suggest any course of action."

What the public didn't know was that Sparkman's first letter had been inspired by astute Jim Rowe, Washington counsel for MGM and its chairman, George Killian of San Francisco. Killian has long been a big wheel in the Democratic party and Rowe once served as Sen. Lyndon Johnson's campaign manager.

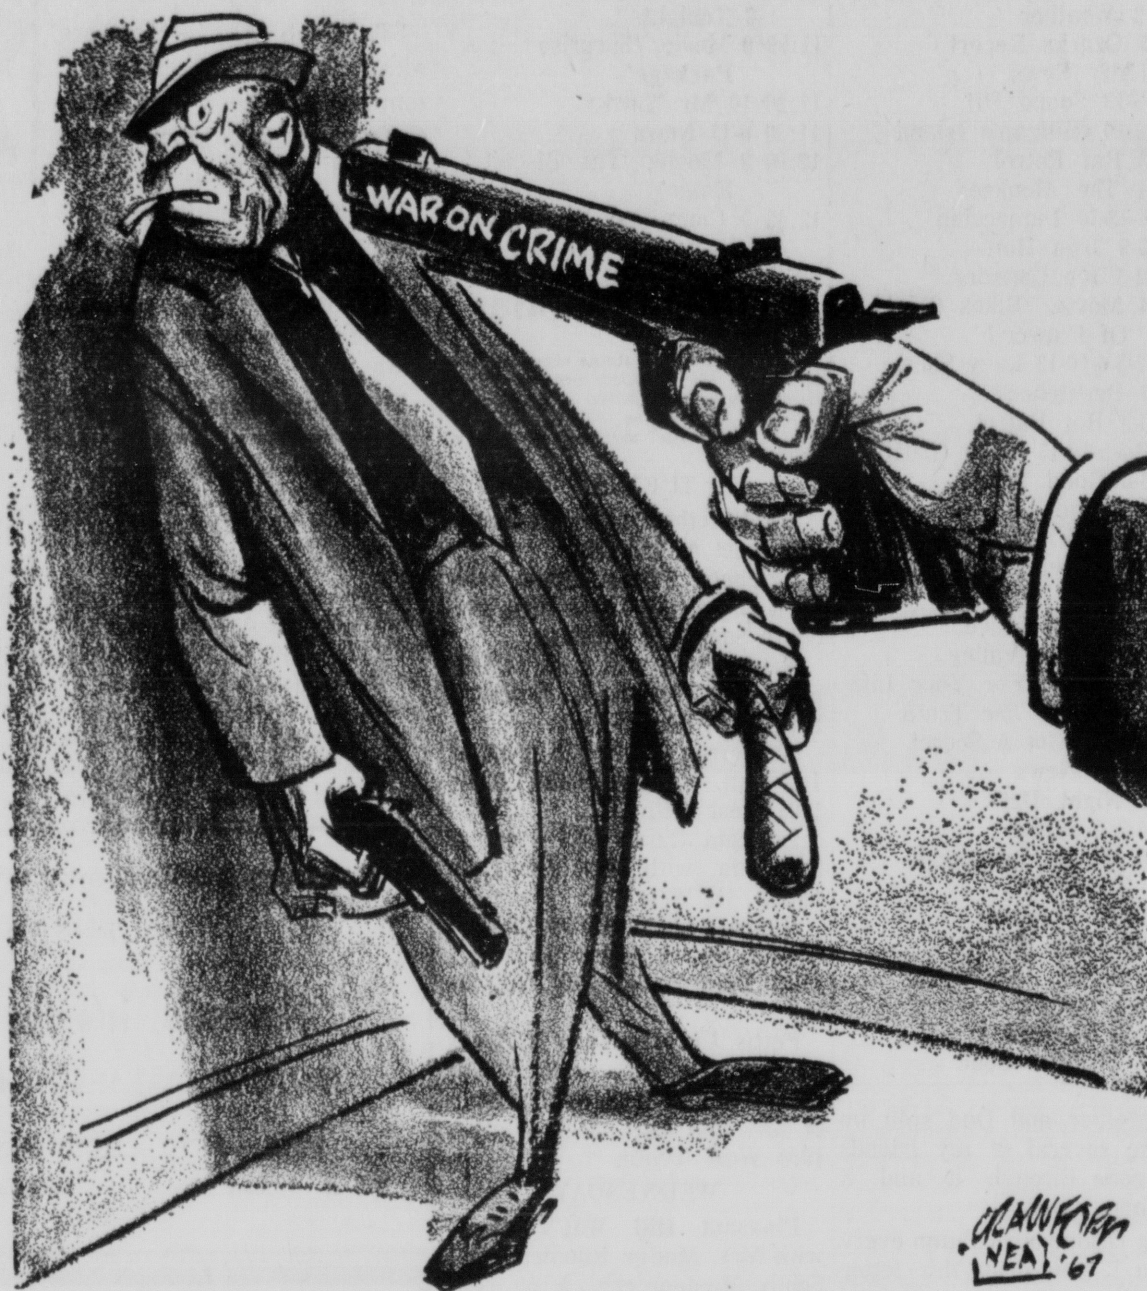

But what Sparkman didn't know was that a potent member of his banking and currency committee, "Pete" Williams of New Jersey, is a pal of Philip Levin who is trying to knock out the present MGM management.

Levin has contributed to Sen. Williams's campaign. He pressured Williams. Williams pressured Sparkman. Sparkman then backtracked.

Significantly, Bob O'Brien, head of MGM whom Levin wants to fire, is an old Roosevelt new dealer who once served on the Securities and Exchange Commission, has done a masterful job of putting MGM well in the black. It was O'Brien who had the courage to produce "Dr. Zhivago" when other Hollywood moguls were afraid to touch it. The film was one of the best and most profitable pictures of 1966.

Levin, an expert on real estate, eyes MGM's big movie set outside Los Angeles where real estate values have skyrocketed. He seems more interested in selling real estate than producing pictures. The show-down over who will control the movie that makes the lion roar will take place at the MGM annual stockholders meeting Feb. 23.

President Criticized On Every Issue

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — In his lonely job President Johnson has to be the long-distance runner.

If he had failed to send troops into the Dominican Republic in 1965, and if the Communists had taken over, he never would have lived it down.

But the Communists didn't prevail and Johnson was criticized. Now that peace has been restored in the republic, criticism of Johnson has died down.

Since 1954 the United States, under Presidents Dwight D. Eisenhower and John F. Kennedy, had its hands in South Vietnam, wanting to keep it away from the Communists.

By the time Johnson took over in 1963 the Reds were getting closer to domination and by 1965 they looked only inches away.

If he had turned his back on the South Vietnamese then, he would have abandoned all previous efforts under Eisenhower and Kennedy to save the country.

And, if the Reds did take over, Johnson never would have lived that down, either. And his failure might have ruined his presidency.

Further, the other Southeast Asia nations which had looked to this country for help against Communist attempts to swamp them — particularly since Red China dominated the continent — undoubtedly would have lost heart.

Johnson not only didn't withdraw American help from South Vietnam, but did the opposite. And the criticism of him for this never has stopped. But criticism from other groups, if he had withdrawn, wouldn't be over now, either.

He ordered the bombing of North Vietnam and now he gets it from both sides at home. Those who claim to be appalled by the bombing and those who say he isn't bombing hard enough.

But if the North Vietnamese agree to quit fighting, if the other Southeast Asia nations are heartened by the American resistance to communism, if communism then is indefinitely discouraged from new adventures, and if peace is restored to the whole area, Johnson eventually will be praised.

Thus he is in the spot of a man who knows he will be criticized no matter what he does, and all he can do is what he thinks best, believing in the end history will justify him.

It's a lonely process. It takes a long time. Meanwhile, he shows no signs of chickening out of his responsibilities as he sees them no matter which side at home tries to climb up his back.

But in the process he is plagued by a problem which has no parallel in American history. He not only has to think about the enemy in this case, North Vietnam, but about the Soviet Union and Red China, which are not directly involved.

Because of the chaos in China today Johnson probably finds it impossible to decide just how much of a role the Red Chinese at this moment are playing in North Vietnam's unwillingness so far to talk peace.

At the same time he can't know what those former friends, but now enemies, the Soviets and Chinese, will do to each other in a way that will affect the war in Vietnam.

The Soviets have been supplying the North Vietnamese with arms, sent through or over Chinese territory. A final Soviet-Chinese split might pretty much end Soviet help for North Vietnam.

That will affect the war. And if the Chinese fall any deeper into their present lunacy, they may lose interest in Vietnam. This kind of guessing, which Johnson has to do, can be rearranged in almost any other direction.

Sunday Red China's foreign minister, Chen Yi, accused this country of trying to "cover up" intensified war efforts in Vietnam with a "smokescreen of peace talks."

At the same time in London a Soviet commentator was saying Mao Tse-tung was trying to build a "Chinese wall" to halt the flow of supplies and communications between Moscow and North Vietnam in hopes of prolonging the war.

Johnson is a man who deserves tremendous sympathy and understanding in his difficult job but at this time he doesn't seem to be getting much.

We are going to designate this week as "Catch the Queen Week."

We start with a simple hand. South is interested in getting to a grand slam after North, who has opened the bidding, gives an immediate spade raise. Some players might just blast to seven but this South is an expert playing in an all-expert game. His four no-trump bid asks for aces and his follow-up bid of five no-trump not only asks for kings but also tells North that he, South, is interested in seven and is guaranteeing that the North-South hands hold all the aces.

If North had held to queen of spades, plus his three kings and ace, he should go to seven over five no-trump. Even then, South gave his partner an extra push by bidding six no-trump but North was happy to let the hand play at six.

When South looks over dummy, he is really pleased to have stopped at the small slam. He misses four spades, including the queen, and has to pick up that queen for the grand slam. On the other hand, 6 is perfectly safe and all he has to think about is an overtrick.

He wins the club and leads the jack of spades. No expert would cover in this situation. Nevertheless, South has made the correct play because some players automatically cover an honor with an honor.

Anyway, West plays low and dummy's king wins the trick. South leads a second spade and East follows low. South's correct play is to rise with the ace. When you hold nine of a suit, missing the queen, your normal correct play is to try for the drop, not a finesse. True, the odds favor a 3-1 as against a 2-2 break but, since you finesse on the second round, you have eliminated the 3-1 breaks that include a singleton queen.

Hope Springs Anew for Ghana

By CYRENE DEAR

ACCRA, GHANA—The ghosts of former Prime Minister Kwame Nkrumah's corrupt government can be seen all over Ghana, the former Gold Coast of West Africa. A huge state house in Accra which he built stands empty. The "Black Square" is shown to tourists as his extravagant folly. His private zoo has become a park. The citizens living in a bankrupt country look forward now to a new regime with free elections and an honorable leader.

Ghana became independent from the British on March 6, 1957. Nkrumah, as Prime Minister, started to develop the country under socialistic lines. The exercise of power went to his head and he created numerous "emergency measures" which were far beyond the public purse. His personal extravagance, arrogance and corrupt reign ended on February 24, 1966. While on a visit to Communist China the Ghanaian army and police took over the government and dismissed Nkrumah and all his ministers.

The citizens have supported the military regime which is expected to last two or three years. A committee is planning a new constitution which will be voted upon and a new leader will be chosen.

There are three daily newspapers in Accra, the capital. One of its editors asserted that he was free to print the news and to express his opinions, but that he would not think of publishing stories that were indecent or scandalous — which is done in the United States.

There is hope for Ghana's economy since the construction of the Volta River project consisting of a hydroelectric power plant and a related aluminum smelter. This was financed by the United States, the United Kingdom, the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development and Ghana itself. The cost was over $300,000,000 but electric power is now available in the many rural villages and the large lake in the area is rapidly becoming a recreational area.

One of the chief industries in Ghana is cocoa production but one cannot get a cup of it to drink in the hotel. A local candy factory does make its own chocolate. Another example of Ghanaian enterprise is demonstrated by the fact that they have hired Dutch textile specialists to help them design and print their own fabrics so they will no longer have to import their beautiful African prints from Holland.

While education is considered free, a small tuition is charged and the children, especially the students in the secondary schools, must buy their own books. English is the common language, but tribal accents distort it so it is difficult to understand.

The University of Ghana at Accra is a large compound of Spanish type buildings. The large library, with its glistening gold clock, was a former church. There are many departments, including agriculture and law. A medical school is expected to be constructed in 1968. The University has 2,000 students, most of them on government scholarships, who live in dormitories on the campus. The cost per student is about $200 a year.

A group of intellectuals have started their own magazine called "The Legion Observer" which publishes articles on "The Pace of the 24th of February Revolution," "The Ghanaian Woman in Politics," "The Free Press," and "Formal Entrenchment of Human Rights — A Myth." Most of the editorial staff were educated in the United States.

An International Trade Fair has just opened in Ghana. The newspaper group had a preview of the United States pavilion which exhibited products sold in Ghana. A photographic display showing what the U.S. does with the cocoa it imports from Ghana gave the whole process from the bean to the chocolate factory.

Some observers believe that Ghana has the greatest human potential of all the African countries, but Nkrumah's regime delayed its progress. If substantial new leadership is obtained, then perhaps the symbolic ant hills which are miniature castles may inspire the use of the biblical slogan "Go to the ant, thou sluggard." The name Ghana, which means ant, was given by the English to this former British colony.

The missionaries have been very active in Ghana. In the center of town is a new Presbyterian church, a school and a book depot. This denomination is also active in the Volta River area. The Methodists have a center next to the Presbyterians in Accra, as do the Baptists and the Seven Day Adventists. There are several Catholic centers and an Anglican center also.

The Ghanaians say the women did not have to struggle for the vote or emancipation because all the native tribes are matriarchal.

Letter To The Editor

HARRY W. DAVIS (Rural Route 1, Warsaw, Mo.) — It seems to me that too many of us today take for granted the very things that make this country a great and powerful nation, and I suspect that perhaps I too, have belonged to this group. So I have resolved to correct this.

First, I would like to compliment you on your policy of having editorials. Too many of our papers do not do this.

Regardless of whether I always agree or not, (and I don't) you always manage to point out a few facts that I hadn't considered before. This is what is important. In doing this you arm the public with the facts of the matter so that they can make up their mind, (pro or con) and come to some decision.

There are many things we would like to see our country do, some may come slowly, some maybe not at all. We are always striving to create a better environment for our children, better, at least, than we had. However I feel that somewhere we must be in error.

The crime rate among our younger group (under 30) has grown alarming, almost to the point of being out of hand, especially in some areas. What have we done wrong?

Knowledge, at times is very painful to acquire but this only makes it more outstanding. It seems to me that we are blowing the wrong end of the whistle, in this way.

We need to strengthen the ranks of our police officers, and then stand behind them, see to it that they get the job done. But, federal money is not the answer. Why should we expect the government to do for us what we will not do for ourselves? We have already tried this in our schools, as of ten or so years ago, and this is what comes of it.

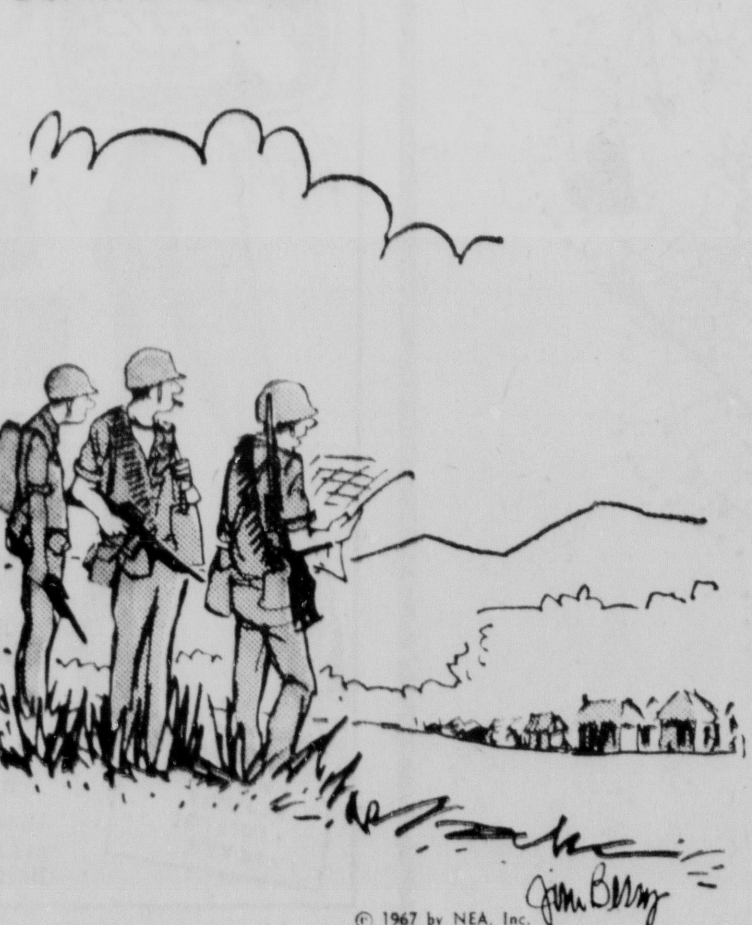

We should not blame our politicians entirely for they reflect the will of the people. In short, we have made them what they are. I know a lot of my friends who sit back and bemoan the fate of the nation, and when asked if they voted in the last election, they said no, and of course if they don't have time to vote, they for sure wouldn't have time to write a letter to one of them.

After meeting a half-dozen or so of these persons we really began to take notice of things. It's for sure that some of the decisions that have been made recently are not in the best interests of our country, and yet if you mention this, they cry and wring their hands and say that there is nothing that can be done.

Many are on the "payroll." I don't mean graft money, I mean people who in one way or another derive their livelihood from the government, so they do not want to jeopardize their "grave-train." What they fail to realize, is that if they don't wake up, the "grave-train" is going to have so many cars tied to it that it can't be pulled. In other words, money won't be worth anything if you can't buy anything with it.

I could go on, but I won't waste your time since this will probably wind up in the waste basket anyway. But thank you for taking time to listen to me sound off anyway.

Sheet-Damaged Trees

Stubs of broken limbs should be removed by pruning flush with the trunk or parent limb. This should be done as soon as possible.

Smooth up edges of wounds caused by bark stripping.

All wounds, including those resulting from pruning, should be treated with a wound dressing — usually some type of asphalt compound — can be obtained at garden supply and paint stores.

Usually, limbs or small trees, badly bent from the weight of ice, will straighten by themselves unless the wood fibers are ruptured. If natural straightening does not occur, it may be advisable to prop or guy up trees and limbs as soon as warm spring weather arrives.

Partially uprooted trees may be saved by guying them up, cutting off broken roots and re-packing the soil around remaining roots.

Trees with soft, brittle wood, such as Chinese elm, soft maple, and poplar, always suffer most from ice and wind. These species may require some drastic pruning or, if too badly damaged should be replaced with better species.

Wake Up Your Pastures

You can almost count on grazing your pastures 10 days to two weeks earlier by giving your grass stands a generous fertilizer top dressing early. And, the odds are highly favorable for 2 to 4 times more growth to graze or harvest for hay when top dressing is done every year on fair to good grass stands.

Top dressing treatments suggested for fair to good stands start with a minimum of 60 pounds of nitrogen and 40 pounds each of available phosphate and potash per acre.

Research and numerous demonstrations indicate how grass stands respond to fertilization: 181 demonstrations gave 2.6 tons of air dry forage per acre where nitrogen, phosphate and potash was applied from January to early March. The unfertilized check strips yielded 1.1 tons per acre.

Fed Wisely for Dairy Profits
Dairy prices have improved over a year ago, but your dairy profits still are largely determined by how well you have been able to control your costs. Grain costs are about 30 to 35 per cent of the cost of producing milk. If you are short on roughage, the gain may be 40 per cent of your total costs.

In addition, when grain is in relatively good supply there is a tendency to use it more freely, than in years when feed must be purchased.

These two factors, abundant grain and the need to substitute grain for roughage can lead to high feeding costs.

It should be very clear by now that you can cut costs by using this grain wisely.

Feeding according to milk production means you make better use of the grain you feed. It is not always convenient to feed in this manner, and may take more of your time, but it will result in feed savings and in better production from high producing cattle that get enough quality feed to support their higher level of production.

DHIA or Owner Samples records now carry individual cow grain feeding recommendations and the recommended level of protein that should be included in the ration.

One dairy man recently said using this information resulted in a savings in feed during one month equal to three times the monthly cost of his record system.

This is an excellent opportunity to make record keeping work for you.

Runny-Eyed Calves

Causes of runny-eyed calves may be from inadequate vitamin A or from improper nutrition. This usually occurs in the late winter and early spring.

Contrary to public opinion, pinkeye and other eye infections may occur any time of year and not just during the summer. Deficiency of vitamin A may aggravate signs caused by these infections.

Because there are many possible causes of runny-eyed calves, accurate diagnosis and proper treatment depends on careful evaluation of the feeding, management, and various infections present in each herd of calves.

Iron Shots For Pigs

In today's swine enterprises, pigs are farrowed all year long. The winter and early spring months are difficult times for pigs though, and swine producers are asking when iron shots should be given baby pigs.

Baby pigs that have not had access to soil and will be prevented from exposure to dirt for 10-days or two-weeks, should have iron shots or some other method of preventing anemia at two to four-days of age.

Spring Pasturing of Wheat

"How late in the spring can wheat be pastured and still produce a minimum yield of grain?" This is a question coming from many livestock men.

In normal seasons, wheat can be pastured until mid-April without any significant reduction in yield. If the wheat makes a slow start in growth because of late cold weather or a shortage of moisture, any spring pasturing may cut yields somewhat.

On the other hand, if early vigorous growth is made, pasturing as late as May 1st may not reduce yields significantly. Such late pasturing may be justified where pastures are backward and hay supplies are low.

Sudan-Sorghum Crosses for Hay or Silage

More livestock men are thinking of ways to increase forage production on their farms. One question coming from them is, "What is the potential of sudan-sorghum crosses as hay or silage?"

Yield tests show that good sudan-sorghum hybrids will produce 30 to 50 per cent more than pure sudan. The hay or silage produced will not be significantly different in feeding value from the pure sudan silage or hay.

Sudan - sorghum crosses do have a higher prussic acid potential than the pure sudans, but this is not likely to cause any trouble as hay or silage. When used for pasture these hybrids could be more hazardous than the pure sudans.

Goldflow Most Serious US Problem Coming In Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Solid gold really doesn't flow, of course, but the "goldflow" will be one of the nation's most persistent and serious problems this year.

The apparent contradiction isn't the only one that relates to the brilliant, malleable and scarce metal that is almost universally accepted as payment for purchases and debt.

You must question man's judgment about the value and power of gold, for instance, when you view it stacked in subterranean vaults, seldom admired, seemingly never used for anything constructive and seldom made into anything but 28-pound bricks.

The goldflow — the movement of gold to and from the nation's vaults — will nevertheless, be one of the big stories of the year. "The United States supply is diminishing and therefore our prestige is at stake. Gold is power."

Here, greatly simplified, is the background on this continuing story:

Before the 1920s the United States literally was on the gold standard. A person could really trade in his paper money for gold. The paper, therefore was good as gold and much lighter and easier to handle.

There were several disadvantages. One of these was that commerce could expand only as fast as gold could be found and mined. This was absurd, for the gold supply depended on mining rather than on the demands of trade.

Most countries abandoned the gold standard, including the United States in 1934. We called in our gold coins and certificates. We stopped redeeming paper money in gold.

Instead, we settled on a formula: We would maintain only a percentage of gold for the money we printed. The gold then became more symbolic. To limit the money presses, we established a legal ceiling. Trust now reposed in the Treasury.

Because we could print much more money than could be redeemed in gold we could now vary the amount of paper in circulation so as to meet our needs. We didn't have to wait until it was mined.

Gold, however, continued in international trade. Any foreign nation still could cash in $35 for an ounce of gold. Since we guaranteed this, most nations continued to use the dollar bill. They had just as much confidence in it.

Some nations developed a surplus beyond their needs, however. They converted. We paid in gold. In fact, if any nation thought it couldn't convert — if it lost confidence in the dollar — international trade would be a mess.

How did foreigners get this surplus? Ironically, the great wealth of the United States had something to do with it. Since we have plenty of money we spend a lot, much of it abroad. We leave our dollars there and take home goods.

Tourists traveling in Europe contribute to this outflow. American corporations building new plants abroad are partly responsible. Foreign aid, of all things, contributes. Our military

Drugs Work On Cases Of Skin Cancer

NEW YORK (AP) — The goal of curing cancer with drugs is being achieved in skin cancers, a researchers reported today.

Various drugs are curing 60 to 98 per cent of some types of skin cancer, said Dr. Edmund Klein, dermatologist at Roswell Park Memorial Institute, Buffalo, N.Y.

"Healing occurs with slight or no recognizable scarring," as may occur from surgical or X-ray treatment, he added.

In cancer terms, "cure" means no return of the cancer for at least five years. This is being achieved, Klein told the New York State Medical Society in describing research with more than 300 patients begun more than five years ago.

The techniques are being used and studied at 22 other medical institutions with similar results, Klein said.

The drugs — half a dozen of them used far less effectively in treating other kinds of cancer — are applied directly to the skin in ointment or other forms.

The significance of the research extends beyond the abolition of skin cancer in many cases, Klein said.

It adds to the hopes that effective drugs may be found to overcome other, internal forms of cancer. A true chemical cure of cancer so far has generally been credited only in a very rare type of cancer of the uterus or womb — choriocarcinoma — with the drug methotrexate.

Further, one drug, nicknamed TEIB, apparently helps to mobilize body defenses to overcome skin cancers by inducing a hypersensitivity or allergic type of reaction. Perhaps similar or yet-unknown defense mechanisms might be induced to combat other types of cancer, Klein suggested.

Some of the drugs even help to detect early primary skin cancers. When drugs are applied to the skin, the unseen cancer spots become red and visible, and react to the drugs.

Klein reported best results, a cure rate of 95 to 98 per cent, in superficial basal and squamous-cell cancers, and in solar keratoses — dark, precancerous spots on the skin caused by exposure to sunlight. Basal-cell cancers arise from an underlayer of the skin, and squamous from the top layer.

Skin cancers are the most curable form of cancer, with 98 per cent cure rates through surgery or radiation or both, if they are detected early.

Some 5 million Americans are estimated to have solar keratoses that could become cancers, and many of these result from "the opinion that a good suntan is a status symbol".

Springfield And Lincoln Are Sure Representatives

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Springfield State and Lincoln are almost certain to represent the state in NCAA college division play, but it's a four-team scramble for one NAIA tourney berth among Drury, William Jewell, Rockhurst and Southwest Baptist.

The MCAU champion and a team selected at large will meet in a best two-of-three playoff March 4, 6 and 7 to determine the NAIA representative.

Drury, 10-1, has a one-game edge over William Jewell, 9-2, in the MCAU race. Drury's 74-61 victory over last-place Westminster Saturday was its last home game. Drury plays its last three on the road, at Culver-Stockton, Tarkio and Graceland. William Jewell, 77-66 winner at Tarkio, closes with three at home, with Graceland, Central Methodist and Culver.

Rockhurst has won five of its last six for a 12-9 record compared to 11-6 for Southwest Baptist. They will collide Feb. 24 at Bolivar and this should help clarify the situation.

Last year Rockhurst beat Drury in the state playoff and reached the NAIA quarterfinals.

Springfield kept its MIAA record perfect with a convincing 71-53 victory at Kirksville. Jim Gummerts had 19, Dan Bolden 18 for the winners. Lincoln got its 20th victory, 88-72 at Kentucky State with Arvesta Kelly scoring 28. Springfield might be the host for an NCAA regional and Lincoln could be sent to a different regional.

Cape Girardeau won over Rolla 78-73 at Cape and Warrensburg won 56-49 at Maryville in other MIAA games. Tonight, Springfield plays at Maryville and Warrensburg at Kirksville. In the only other game tonight, Pittsburg State is at Lincoln.

In other games Saturday Graceland beat Missouri Valley 101-73, Culver-Stockton beat Central Methodist 96-74, Evangel lost 94-64 at Bethel, Okla., and Northern Illinois beat Washington at St. Louis 74-70.

US Figure Skaters In Top Form

MONTREAL (AP) — United States figure skaters survived a strike, power failure and strong Canadian competition Sunday and dominated the North American figure skating championships with three victories in the four events.

A sparkling performance by world champion Peggy Fleming, 18, of Colorado Springs, Colo., led the way as she won first place acclaim of all seven judges with a dazzling series of spins and jumps to win the women's title. She totaled 1,909.4 points in the three-day competition.

Cynthia Kaufman, 18, and her brother, Ron, 20, of Seattle, Wash., executed a flawless program of spirals, pirouettes, jumps and turns for five firsts and a total of 232.1 points for the pairs crown.

Defending champions Lorna Dyer, 21, and John Carrell, 20, of Seattle, the unanimous choice of the seven judges in the free-style finals, captured the dance title with 254.5 points.

Donald Knight, 19, of Ontario, cracked the U.S. hold with a variety of brilliant surprise spins and jumps in his free-style program that won him the men's title with six firsts and a total of 1,847 points.

A strike by 4,500 city white collar workers had forced relocation of the events at three different arenas and caused many of the skaters to miss practice time. A power failure blacked out the third substitute arena for 40 minutes in the final round.

Qualifying Events For Swim Meet Set

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — Qualifying events for the 33rd annual Missouri high school swimming championship will be held next weekend at University City, Lemay and Lexington.

Swimmers in St. Louis and St. Charles Counties will take part in the University City and Lemay meets, which will be held Feb. 17 and 18.

All those from schools outside that area will go to the qualifying meet at Wentworth Military Academy in Lexington, Saturday, Feb. 18. The preliminaries will begin at 10 a.m., and the finals at 8 p.m.

The state swim meet will be held Feb. 25 at the University of Missouri Natatorium.

Kirkwood is the defending champion, winning the 1966 meet with 51 points. Clayton was second with 43; Webster Groves third with 35, and Lindbergh fourth with 25.

Boros Goes Home With New Riches

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Julius Boros headed home today for a month's rest $14,000 richer after winning the $70,000 Phoenix Open golf tournament, the 14th tourney win of his career.

"I've been away from home for a month now, and my wife wants me to get home with her and the kids," the 46-year-old Boros said after he edged out Ken Stail by one stroke for the title Sunday.

The winner carded a 272 total to 273 for Stail.

Boros, who has seven children, the youngest six months, commented, "I guess I'm a late

Troubles With France, Sportsmen

COPENHAGEN (AP)—Olympic officials left town today warning the French they could find themselves staging next year's winter Olympics in Grenoble without a Frenchman involved.

"There are troubles with the French government and the French Olympic Committee," said Avery Brundage of Chicago, president of the International Olympic Committee.

The problems stem from the fact that the French government demand two officials on the French Olympic Committee.

"This is political interference in sport," Brundage maintained. "We're dead against it."

"This problem might affect the participation of the French team" in Grenoble.

In other words, Brundage meant that if the French government continued to demand two representatives on the French Olympic Committee then the French could find themselves without Olympic recognition — and so out of the games in Grenoble and Mexico next year.

The Olympic officials met for two days in Copenhagen. It was an executive board affair and important problems — like the one involving the French — will be referred to a full meeting of the IOC in Teheran in May.

Brundage said the exact agenda for the Teheran meeting had not been set — but it could be an explosive one if the French affair is not sorted out.

More Teams End Up Third Or Fourth

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Everybody is trying so hard to be only No. 2 in college basketball, the Top Ten is getting more and more Nos. 2, 4, 5, etc.

The latest likely to join those who tried and failed is North Carolina, which jeopardized its No. 2 ranking by losing to unranked Georgia Tech 82-80 Saturday.

Two other former No. 2s, Houston and Texas Western, also slipped as half of the Top Ten teams in the country took a turn for the worse.

Houston, No. 5, fell before off-beaten Notre Dame 87-78 and Texas Western, No. 8, stumbled at Seattle 69-56, while ninth-ranked Providence lost to Niagara 77-76 and No. 10 Boston College was surprised by Fordham 85-81.

"It gets to you mentally," said Coach Bill van Breda Kolff, whose fourth-ranked Princeton Tigers barely avoided upset by nipping Brown 57-54. "It's not a matter of wanting to win; rather, you get the feeling you have to win and something happens to you."

But nothing ever seems to happen to No. 1, UCLA. The Bruins continued their way alone, pushing aside Oregon State 76-44 Friday and then Oregon 100-66 Saturday for a 19-0 record in their march toward the elusive unbeaten season.

The rest of the ranking teams survived. Third-ranked Louisville, 20-2 another former No. 2 and a likely choice to get another try at holding the spot, downed Wichita 90-68. Western Kentucky, No. 6, ran its mark to 18-1 by tripping Eastern Tennessee 65-56.

Kansas, No. 7, outlasted Kansas State 60-55.

Two other highly-rated teams also had trouble as St. Louis hindered Tulsa's hopes of catching Louisville in the Missouri Valley Conference by beating the Hurricane 76-62, while Lehigh stunned Rutgers 45-43.

North Carolina, 16-2, had a seven-game winning streak shattered after overcoming a 72-58 deficit at Atlanta. Bob Brizendine's layup with six seconds left did the damage as the Engineers, 14-7, won for the ninth time in 10 outings.

Sophomore Ron Arzen cut up Houston with 37 points at South Bend, Ind., while Seattle worked behind Tom Workman and Steve Looney, who each scored 17 points. Seattle, the only team to beat the defending NCAA champion Texas Western last season, built a 23-9 lead and protected it.

Providence lost its chance when Jim Walker, who scored 28 points, stumbled going in for a layup in the last five seconds at Niagara and missed a winning basket.

Dennis Witkowski scored 24 points at Boston, sinking Boston College's seven-game victory string.

Low Alcindor hit only 16 points, but Lucius Allen added 22 for UCLA, which hosts Oregon and Oregon State next weekend.

Chris Thomforde and Joe Heiser split four free throws in the last minute to save Princeton at Providence, R.I., while host Western Kentucky overcame a halftime deficit for its victory.

Labor Relations Director In KC Dies

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Martin Sacks, 50, regional director of the National Labor Relations Board at Kansas City since 1964, died of a heart attack at a hospital Saturday night.

Sacks joined the NLRB in 1946 and served as field attorney and regional attorney in Kansas City from 1948 to 1957. Then he was regional attorney in Tampa, Fla., until being appointed regional director at Kansas City in 1964.

He leaves his widow, a son and two daughters, all of the home.

Don't Get Shook Up

Sophomores Help Kansas Win Games

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer

"That's the thing about this club, the sophomores don't get shook up," said Kansas senior Ron Franz after his team won a pressure-filled 60-55 game at Kansas State to stay atop the Big Eight basketball standings.

Franz pinpointed a generally overlooked factor in the Kansas surge to the top. Coach Ted Owens is doing it with a young team. Four of the first seven scorers are sophomores, Jo Jo White is a first semester junior and Franz the only senior.

Nebraska's veteran club, a pre-season title favorite, stayed on the heels of Kansas by whipping Iowa State 94-82 at Lincoln. Colorado is just a half-game behind Nebraska after beating Missouri 79-75 in overtime at Boulder.

The scholastic eligibility loss of 6-foot-7 senior Bob Wilson means that rookies are now carrying from one-third to 40 per cent of the scoring and rebounding load at Kansas. Vernon Vanoy, 6-8, 240-pound pivot, has 142 points and 102 rebounds. 6-4 Phil Harmon has 114 points, 6-5 Bruce Sharon 96 and 6-7 Howard Arndt 46.

If shooting percentages are a good indication of reaction to pressure, the Jayhawk rookies look good. Sloan at .493, Harmon at .474 and Vanoy at .417 rank 2-3-4 on the team behind the leader, Rodger Bohnenstiel.

The 7th-ranked Jayhawks are only half finished with their Big Eight schedule, but they have the inside track with home games against Colorado March 6 and K-State March 11 compared to a road game at Nebraska March 4.

Kansas now has a 6-1 record, Nebraska 6-2, Colorado 5-2 and K-State 4-3. Oklahoma slipped past Iowa State into fifth at 4-4 by beating Oklahoma State 67-60 at Norman.

Oklahoma State is at Kansas, Iowa State at Colorado and Drake at Oklahoma tonight, with K-State at Missouri Tuesday night.

Nebraska ripped Iowa State with a sizzling fast break and got a career high of 29 points from gifted Stuart Lantz. Iowa State's 6-8 Don Smith had 28 but the Huskers forced him outside. He was 11-for-28.

"I thought we handled the ball well on the break, with only five errors," said Nebraska coach Joe Cipriano.

K-State coach Tex Winter was unhappy over his club's erratic shooting which included a hot streak wiping out a 14-point lead, then a dismal last half. He said the Wildcats were missing excellent shots and it hurt.

Missouri got its only league victory at Boulder last season and the Tigers almost struck again. Tom Johnson of Missouri stole the ball and his layup with 13 seconds left sent it into overtime. But Colorado's Lynn Baker erased a 71-69 Tiger lead with two straight driving layups.

Oklahoma got 19 points each from Jim Johnson and Willie Rogers, as Don Sidle was covered tightly and held to 13. Bill Fisher led OSU with 17.

Turner Is Fastest Man On Speedway

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The fastest man on Daytona International Speedway is Curtis Turner, who was racing before many of his competitors got out of diapers.

The 42-year-old Turner showed the youngsters his exhaust Sunday when he took a nonfactory Chevle twice around the high banked 2.5-mile trioval at an average of 180.83 miles an hour.

He wiped out the 178.660 m.p.h. Speedway record Lee Roy Yarborough of Columbia, S.C., set last July, and walked off with $5,000 first money and the pole position for the $200,000 Daytona 500 Feb. 26.

Only a few days earlier, when mechanic Smokey Yunick was fretting about getting competitive speed out of the black and gold No. 13, Turner said he "will run that car if I have to run it barefoot. There's $5,000 at stake. I can remember when we ran the feature and the winner passed the hat to collect $8 or $10."

Always colorful and always able to get the best out of his machinery, Turner, who lives at Charlotte, N.C., decided his record speed was "pretty good since the high banked asphalt track was a little slow" from morning rain.

Richard Petty of Randleman, N.C., collected second place money of $1,000 and the other front row place for the Daytona 500. He averaged 179.068 m.p.h. in a 1967 Plymouth.

That and the third best speed of 178.695 by David Pearson of Spartanburg, S.C., in a Dodge Charger also broke the old record.

A 1967 Ford driven by Cale Yarborough of Charlotte equaled the old mark. A dozen others qualified for a pair of 100-mile races Feb. 24 which will determine the Daytona 500 starting lineup behind the front pair of Turner and Petty.

All-Events Record Set In Tourney

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP) — Young Donald Helling's Sunday punch produced a new all-events record of 2,080 in the Missouri state men's bowling tournament.

The 23-year-old southpaw from Warrenton rolled a 784 doubles series on the way to his record total which wiped out the old all-events standard of 2,020 set by Bill Neal of Kansas City in 1965.

Helling, who hopes to join the PBA tour this summer, and his partner, Elmer Carroz, also of Warrenton, moved into the doubles lead with a 1,461 handicap total.

Carroz had a 589 series for a 1,373 scratch total, high thus far in the tournament, and 88 handicap pins rounded out the total.

While Helling's morning total highlighted the tournament action, Norfolk and Western of Raytown took over the team lead with a 3,266 scratch total and a 272 handicap for its No. 1 position.

Lester Abrams of Brookfield, who has led the singles division for three weeks with 744 total, was the only leader to withstand Sunday's attack, and he made it by only one pin.

Ted Kazulowski of St. Louis rolled a 703 scratch series but picked up only 40 handicap pins to fall one short of Abrams.

The tournament resumes next Saturday, and ends Sunday night.

Matson To Work On Increased Strength

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—Randy Matson, the Texas A&M giant who threw the shot past 70 feet the second time in three years, said today he was going to work toward building up his strength.

"That is the only way I can improve and hope to better what I've already done," said the star of Saturday night's Dallas indoor track meet in which he pitched the 16-pound ball 70 feet 7 1/2 inches, a quarter-inch better than he got in 1965 when he set the world's record.

But he admitted that he was in the best shape he ever had

Tulsa Still Without Win In St. Louis

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG Associated Press Sports Writer
Tulsa is still without a basketball victory in St. Louis in 21 years and its 76-62 loss to the hot Billikens hurt Joe Swank's club in its fight to stay close to Louisville heading into their televised Missouri Valley showdown Saturday afternoon in Tulsa.

Louisville, ranked No. 3 nationally, breezed past Wichita 90-68 with big George Unseld blocking 10 shots and discouraging others before a turnout of 15,331 at Louisville. This left Louisville 9-1 in Valley play and Tulsa 6-2, one game behind in a vital "lost" column.

Peck Hickman's Cardinals will make an important road trip to North Texas Thursday, then Tulsa Saturday, in much better shape because of the upset victory by St. Louis. On the other hand, Tulsa can still get no worse than a co-championship by sweeping its last six, so it's far from over.

Tulsa's only basketball championship in 23 years of Valley membership came in 1955 under Clarence Iba when the Hurricane shared the title at 8-2 with St. Louis because of a 70-69 loss at St. Louis. Tulsa's last victory at St. Louis was 35-32 in 1946 and they beat the Bills only four times in Tulsa since then, plus another in Hawaii's Rainbow tourney finals last season.

St. Louis stayed in a zone defense all the way, ruined Tulsa's zone with deadly outside shooting and ripped the Hurricane with a blistering fast break directed by John Kilo, who had 9 assists, 11 rebounds and hit 7 of 13 shots. Barry Orms was 13-for-18 and Bob Cole 8-for-9.

The Bills hit 50 per cent the first half, Tulsa 39, and led 39-24. It reached 47-24 early in the last half and Tulsa left its zone.

Bobby Smith hit the first 12 points of a Tulsa rally, closing the gap to nine.

Smith finished with 22 but the St. Louis lead was too much. Orms hit 26 and 7-foot Rich Niemann 18 for the Bills, who led 48-33 in rebounds.

Tulsa opens a four-game home stand with Cincinnati Thursday before the big one with Louisville. In non-league action, Drake is at Oklahoma and St. Louis at Chicago Loyola tonight and Memphis State at New Orleans Loyola Tuesday. Wichita is at Bradley in the other Thursday game.

Bradley, paced by Joe Allen's 27 points and 63 per cent field shooting, whipped North Texas 79-69 at Peoria in the weekly televised game. This gave Bradley a fourth place tie at 4-6 with Cincinnati, upset at home by Drake, 58-55. Sophomore Willie McCarter hit eight straight goals for Drake in the last half and had 20 points.

76-ers Cry Foul After Cage Game

BOSTON (AP) —The Philadelphia 76ers cried foul and hoped for a replay while looking over their shoulders at the Boston Celtics today in the National Basketball Association's tightening Eastern Division race.

Philadelphia coach Alex Hannum planned to file a formal protest with NBA Commissioner Walter Kennedy in the wake of the 76ers' 113-112 loss to the Celtics Sunday at the Garden.

The Celtics laughed at Hannum's complaint after winning their fourth game in seven meetings with the 76ers and closing to within 3 1/2 games, only four in the vital loss column, of Wilt Chamberlain & Co.

Hannum announced he was playing the game under protest after referees Mendy Rudolph and John Vanak didn't call a technical foul when Boston had six players on the floor with the Celtics in front 100-97 in the fourth period.

Vanak signalled Boston's Don Nelson into the game to replace Tom Sanders while Philadelphia had the ball to pass in from out of bounds. Play resumed amid confusion, and Sanders finally walked to his bench.

"They had" six players out there for four to six seconds before Sanders sneaked off," Hannum said. "I yelled to the officials, but they didn't hear me. An injustice was done, and it should be rectified by the commissioner. I have high hopes the entire game will have to be replayed."

Rudolph and Vanak later said they did not see six Boston players on the court. Kennedy, who was among the packed crowd of 13,909, said only: "When I get the officials' report, I will make an evaluation."

The 76ers actually lost the meeting with the Celtics at the free throw line, cashing only 24 of 48 attempts. Chamberlain had 30 points, but made only eight of 22 free throw attempts.

While the Celtics were tightening up the East, the St. Louis Hawks continued a surge in the West that has brought them within 6 1/2 games of crippled leader San Francisco.

The Hawks held off a desperate Cincinnati rally for a 118-115 victory in St. Louis as the Warriors were losing to the Pistons 134-127 in Detroit. The Hawks have won three straight, and the Warriors have lost four in a row.

Zelmo Beaty's 12 points and nine by Len Wilkens in the third period provided the Hawks with a 91-74 cushion entering the final quarter, but Oscar Robertson brought the Royals within 114-113 with 11 seconds left. However, two free throws each by Beaty and Wilkens ended the threat.

San Francisco, struggling without injured Nate Thurmond, made up a 21-point first-half deficit for a 91-90 lead as Rick Barry and Jeff Mullins combined for 31 points in the third period. But Detroit pulled away again in the final period.

Barry finished with 49 points, and Mullins hit a career high of 33. Dave DeBusschere paced the Pistons with 27 and reserve Wayne Hightower added 24.

Los Angeles overcame a 42-point burst by Don Kojis and whipped Chicago 129-121. The Lakers, led by Jerry West's 33 points and 26 by Elgin Baylor, pulled away from a halftime tie in Los Angeles and led throughout the final half.

Harahan Wins In Bowling

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Baby-faced Tim Harahan, 20, became the Cinderella boy of the Professional Bowlers Association by winning top money in the PBA's $50,000 Brut Open Saturday.

Starting in fifth place in the finals, the youngster from Encino, Calif., tossed his hook consistently into the 1-3 pocket to defeat four veterans and take home a check for $10,000 and a $1,000 trophy.

His first victim was Jim St. John of San Jose, Calif., 222-192. Then he took on Al Thompson of Cleveland and won 195-190. His third match was against Dick Weber of St. Louis, whose countless championships should have awarded Harahan right off the lanes.

Harahan, starting with seven strikes in a row, wound up with 254 to Weber's 235. In the ninth frame the youngster drew the 3-6-7 split and then calmly converted it. Weber, who collected nine strikes in his game, was put on the defensive when he drew an 8-10 split in the fifth after opening with a 4-bagger. Weber doubled in the 7th and 8th, and struck out in the 10th.

The final match for the title was with Billy Hardwick of Louisville, Ky. Hardwick, who led the qualifiers, was off his game. He opened with a double, then got a 4-count and converted. He followed with a 7-count and converted, came back with a strike and drew a 6-7 split in the sixth frame. To top it off, he missed the 10-point in the eighth frame after a tap.

Harahan, meanwhile, sailed smoothly along. Although he got only one double, he wound up with 207 against Hardwick's 175.

Harahan, who is making his first tour with the pros, got his first sanctioned 300 earlier in the week when he bowled a perfect game in a qualifying round.

WBA Recognizes Clay As World Champion

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The World Boxing Association finally has come over to Cassius Clay's corner — only to back away again.

The WBA announced Sunday it has formally recognized Clay as the world heavyweight king but snubbed the controversial champion in declining to name anyone Boxer of the Year.

Clay earned undisputed possession of the heavyweight crown by outpointing big Ernie Terrell, the WBA king last Monday night at Houston. The WBA had stripped Clay of its title for agreeing to return bout with Sonny Liston in 1965.

"There is no doubt now that Clay stands supreme in the heavyweight division," said Arch Hindman, the WBA's ratings chairman. "And the WBA hopes he stands ready to defend his title against the No. 1 challenger."

Brocklin Calls It Quits Now

ST. PAUL - MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Stormy Norm Van Brocklin, the volatile Dutchman who built the Minnesota Vikings from a ragtag collection of kids and castoffs into a respectable National Football League team, has called it quits for good.

Van Brocklin, tormented for two years by his admitted inability to get the Vikings over the hump and unable to reconcile the widening split between himself and quarterback Fran Tarkenton, stunned the Vikings by resigning Saturday, a day after Tarkenton said he would not play with Minnesota any more.

The double-barrelled terminations left General Manager Jim Finks and the five Vikings owners dumbfounded, even though they obviously knew of the simmering rift between Van Brocklin and Tarkenton. And they knew the Van Brocklin temperament.

"This is a real blow," Finks said. "This is a very dark day for the Vikings... there's no reason to try to fool anybody."

Finks began today the task of finding a new head coach. He said the Vikings would start from scratch, and that it is certain no replacement would be named before the NFL meeting in Hawaii next week.

Van Brocklin made no recommendation on a successor.

It was Van Brocklin's second resignation from the Vikings, but this time it will stick. The Board of Directors immediately accepted it, after Van Brocklin had told them of his plans on Friday and then was told to think it over for 24 hours.

Van Brocklin indicated no future plans.

Advocator Top Choice

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Mrs. Ada L. Rice's Advocator, winner of 2-for-2 including the Seminole, today became a solid choice to win Saturday's $100,000 added Widener Handicap at Hialeah, with Exhibitionist gone from the scene.

Exhibitionist, a handsome 4-year-old roan owned by Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs and trained by her husband, Hirsch, fell and broke his shoulder midway through the stretch run in last Saturday's $33,350 Bougainvillea Turf Handicap, won by Paul L. Benschhof's Tequillo.

Exhibitionist, who was destroyed, was in fourth place when jockey Braulio Baeza, leading rider at the meeting with 34 winners, apparently went for an opening that closed up when Point du Jour came over. Exhibitionist and Baeza, top money-winning rider last year, went down.

So did Larry Adams on Nelson Hunt's Big Red Rocket. George D. Widener's Ring Twice hurled Exhibitionist and threw his rider, John Ruane. Baeza had a broken right collarbone, Adams a broken left collarbone, and they'll be out a month to six weeks. Ruane was unhurt.

Point du Jour was disqualified and placed last for drifting out and causing the spill.

Exhibitionist, a closeup second choice at $2.90 for $1 to Greentree Stable's Northern Deamon at $2.80, was regarded as a bright prospect for the Widener and second choice to Advocator in the early line. He had earned $151,529 as a 3-year-old and was insured for $200,000 Jacobs said.

Wheatly Stable's pair of Stupendous and Bold and Brave became second choice for the Widener while Jacobs plans to

First In Tax Series

21 Major Points For 1966 Income Tax Return Offered

EDITOR'S NOTE — Sometimes, taxpayers leave out the simplest things on their income tax returns, causing considerable difficulty on occasion. This article, first in a series of five, sums up the basic facts for a tax return.

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Writer

Twenty-one major points on filing your 1966 income tax return:

1. The deadline is midnight, Monday, April 17. By then the return must be in the hands of the Internal Revenue Service or in the mails.

2. Report only taxable income, like salary and bank interest. Some income is nontaxable, like Social Security payments, and should not be reported.

3. List your Social Security number on your return—there's a place for it—because there is a penalty for failing to.

4. If a wife had income under $600 and therefore is not required to file a return, the husband can claim no exemption for her unless she files jointly with him.

5. Enclose all the W2 withholding statements given you by employers.

6. Generally, husbands and wives save by filing a joint return, whether or not the wife had income. If in doubt, try it both ways to decide.

7. You can get a refund—if too much tax was withheld from you—but only by filing a return.

8. You must file a return if you were under 65—this includes children—and had income of $600 or more, whether or not you owe any tax on it. Parents are responsible for filing returns for their children if they are unable to do so.

9. If you were 65 or older, no return is needed unless your income subject to tax was $1,200 or more. The same goes for your wife. You were considered 65 for all of 1966 if your 65th birthday was as late as Jan. 1, 1967.

10. Everyone filing a return gets a $600 exemption—meaning that much knocked off his income if he's under 65—$1,200 if he's 65 or older.

11. You get a $600 exemption for your wife if she is under 65—$1,200 if she is 65 or older—provided she files jointly with you or, being without income, fails to file jointly, and is not claimed as the dependent of someone else.

12. If a wife had income under $600 and therefore is not required to file a return, the husband can claim no exemption for her unless she files jointly with him.

13. If a wife must file a return, because her income was $600 or over, she can file jointly with her husband, in which case each claims a $600 exemption on the one return. If the wife files separately, she takes her exemption on her return, the husband claims his exemption on his return.

14. Anyone filing a return can get a $600 exemption for each dependent he can legitimately claim, under or over 65.

15. And—a person filing a return gets an extra $600 exemption if he is blind. He also gets an extra $600 exemption for his wife if she is blind. He gets no extra exemption for a blind dependent.

16. If you were self-employed you must file a return, regardless of age, if you had self-employment income of $400 or more. You'd use Form 1040 and Schedule C.

17. Anyone under or over 65, even though receiving Social Security payments, must pay a Social Security tax on any taxable earned income. There's a limit on how much income he can earn and still draw Social Security payments. If in doubt, consult your Social Security office.

18. Everyone filing a return is allowed deductions for personal expenses. But how you take them depends on your personal case.

19. If you take the standard deduction, which may give you a bigger deduction than you could justly claim, you don't have to list your expenses. If your deductible expenses were larger than the standard deduction covers, you can claim them in full but in that case you'll have to itemize them.

20. There are two ways to find the tax: in a tax table or by figuring it yourself. But this is a limited operation. Only people with under $5,000 income can use the tax table, and only some of them can.

21. People with $5,000 or more income must figure their own tax, using the tax-rate schedule.

22. There are two main forms for making a return: 1040 and 1040A. The latter, a punchboard, is simpler. But not everyone can use this, either. Anyone can use 1040. Anyone with 10,000 or more income, or who itemizes deductions, must use 1040.

23. Only those earning less than $10,000 who fit certain conditions can use form 1040A. More on this later in the series.

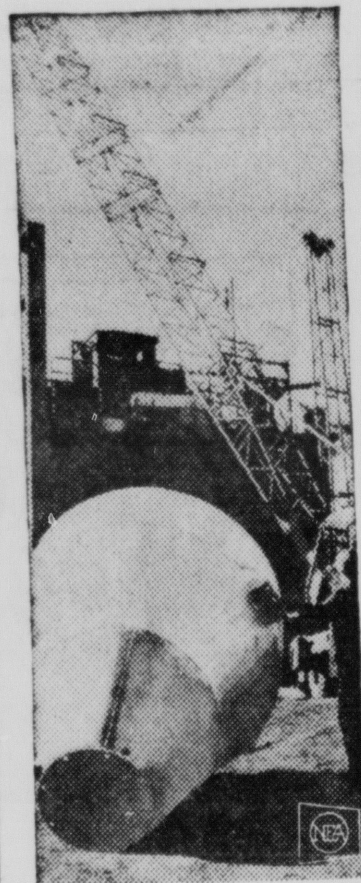

24. There are special rules for military people who served in the Vietnam area.

25. The pay of an enlisted man doesn't have to be reported and is free of tax for any month, a part of which he served in Vietnam and its adjacent waters or was hospitalized anywhere as a result of wounds, disease or injury incurred in Vietnam or those adjacent waters.

26. A commissioned officer is exempt from 1966 income tax on the first $500 of pay for any month under the same conditions explained above for the enlisted man.

27. The IRS sends taxpayers an instruction pamphlet. Be sure to read it. If you don't have it, get it, since it contains tax forms, schedules, tables, the arrangement for figuring the Social Security self-employment tax, state sales tax tables and state gasoline taxes which are deductible if you are itemizing your deductions.

28. For a lot of people one of the best helps they can get is to buy the government's book of instructions on filing a return —

SPACE CAPSULES end up in the darndest places, so it seems. Actually, this is a look-alike serving a down-to-earth purpose—a hopper for dumping coal into coke plant ovens at the CF&I Steel Corp. in Pueblo, Colo.

Campaign Results

REGINA, Sask. (AP) — Saskatchewan's teacher-recruiting campaign in Britain has brought 405 applications for jobs, Education Minister George Trapp reported. Last year 240 teachers from Britain were signed to contracts in the province.

"Your Federal Income Tax" — which has 160 pages and costs 50 cents. It's available from the Government Printing Office in Washington and at IRS offices.

It goes into far more details than any one person will need or than can be covered in a series like this.

20. Some examples of taxable income which must be reported: Wages, salaries, tips, fees, bonuses, salaries, commissions, interest on U.S. savings bonds, commissions, profits from business, rents, royalties, prizes and awards when you did something to win them.

21. Some examples of non-taxable income which does not have to be reported in making your return: Insurance proceeds, damages paid and so on for injury or death; life insurance payments on death; dividends on veterans' insurances; disability retirement payments and other benefits paid by the Veterans Administration; gifts; inheritances; bequests; Railroad Retirement Act benefits.

22. Insurance proceeds, damages paid and so on for injury or death; life insurance payments on death; dividends on veterans' insurances; disability retirement payments and other benefits paid by the Veterans Administration; gifts; inheritances; bequests; Railroad Retirement Act benefits.

Teen-Agers Spout Off On Parents

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The specialty of "Candid Camera" through all its seasons on CBS has been playing practical jokes on unsuspecting citizens and then showing their embarrassed surprise when informed that they have been filmed in the act of making idiots of themselves.

But that familiar format was replaced Sunday night by what producer Allan Funt apparently believes is a great, sober social document. It featured assorted boys and girls talking about their parents — often in complimentary terms.

The basic question, asked youngsters from ages five to 16, was, "Do you think your father is smarter than you are?"

Surprisingly, a lot of them did. One teen-age girl, for instance, gave her father the ultimate in approbation — "He's a sharp guy, cool, a really good guy." A number of them, though, thought their fathers just did not understand them.

Perhaps the most interesting segment involved a boy in his teens who declared that his father was "very, very smart," but in a flood of words somewhere buried a line to the effect that, while he loved his father, he "hated him," too.

Funt meticulously was giving parents equal time to answer. The boy's father was shocked that his son would say such a thing "to a complete stranger." He reported that when he spoke to his son about the comment, the boy had no recollection of saying it.

"Candid Camera," with its interminable bag of tricks, gets to be a bit of a bore after a certain amount of exposure to its rather cute techniques. But, practical jokes and all, the old format is better than serious stuff.

Danny Thomas, "Guys and Geishas" special on NBC Friday night included some of the lovely scenery of Japan, where it was shot, but the rest of the hour bore all the familiar stamps of the made-in-Hollywood product, including the jokes.

Deadline Is Set Back

Some Pleasant Surprises Await Income Tax Payers

EDITOR'S NOTE — Federal income tax returns are due by April 17, and they will get a checkover by computer. Following is the first of five articles intended to help you on your income tax returns this year.

It's income tax time again and Uncle Sam has a few pleasant surprises for his many millions of individual taxpayers.

For one thing, the deadline for filing 1966 tax returns is April 17 — two days beyond the regular deadline because April 15 this year falls on a Saturday, a non-business day.

And it should be no more frustrating this year to complete your return, since the tax forms and the basic tax laws have changed little since 1965. If anything, filing your return could be easier.

Graduated withholding — the biggest change in the tax law the past year affecting individuals — won't affect your final tax bill. It only brought the amount of taxes withheld from paychecks more in line with what you actually owe the government.

It will reduce or eliminate the number and amount of refunds and additional tax payments normally due with the tax return. But it won't affect the total amount you pay in 1966 income taxes.

The Internal Revenue Service has already sent out more than 65 million tax forms and instruction sheets. More detailed instructions — a 160-page book called "Your Federal Income Tax" — is available for 50 cents at IRS offices throughout the country.

Make sure you read the instructions first and remember, there's a $5 penalty for failing to list your Social Security number on your return.

Some other things to remember:

The tax form you are now completing is for 1966 taxes. You won't file a return for this year's taxes until 1968.

Sign your return and make sure your wife signs it too if you're filing a joint return. Include her Social Security number in that case, also.

Report only your taxable income. Some income such as Social Security payments, including medicare benefits, and dividends on veterans' government insurance are not taxable.

Enclose all W2 withholding statements with your return. Your employer is supposed to supply them by Jan. 31. These list total wages and salary, the amount of income tax withheld and Social Security tax withheld.

Make sure you use the proper tax table or schedule.

Many Americans, if they are entitled to a refund, will be able this year to send their returns directly to an IRS regional service center, a factor which can expedite the refund by as much as a week.

This is entirely voluntary and available to all taxpayers except those in New England, New York, California, Wisconsin, Illinois, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, North and South Dakota and Nebraska.

Taxpayers in those areas and persons elsewhere who owe additional tax or who don't get a refund should send their returns to the district offices listed in the instruction sheets sent by IRS.

And remember, all tax returns this year will get a complete going over from the government's computers.

Who must file a return?

1. Everyone under 65 whether single or married who had gross income of $600 or more during the year.

2. Anyone who earned less than $600 and is entitled to a refund of income taxes withheld from his paycheck. You are entitled to the refund even though you might be claimed as a dependent by another taxpayer, but you must file a return to get it.

3. Persons 65 and older, if gross income was $1,200 or more.

A person is considered 65 for all of last year even if his birthday came as late as Jan. 1, 1967.

Each taxpayer is entitled to a $600 exemption if he's under 65 and an extra $600 exemption if he's 65 or over. An additional $600 for blindness is permitted no matter what the age of the taxpayer.

If a taxpayer became blind late in the year he's entitled to the exemption for the entire year.

A similar set of exemptions is allowed for a wife provided she meets certain conditions to be spelled out later.

But only one $600 exemption is allowed for a dependent, regardless of age or blindness.

Before filling out your return read the instructions carefully and note the three methods for computing personal deductions — the standard deduction, the minimum standard deduction and itemized deductions. You could pay too much tax if you fail to catch the difference. These will be discussed in later articles.

IT'S A RAVE THE WAY YOU SAVE AT ZIP!

Think.

What else besides Long Distance telephone service costs you less today than it did 10 years ago?

Tough question. Not many things have gone down in price these past few years. Most goods and services have zoomed up in cost.

Long Distance rates are a pleasant exception. There have been 8 rate reductions in Missouri since 1957.

Nowadays, you can make a three-minute, station-to-station call to anywhere in the continental United States (except Alaska) for $1 or less after 8 p.m. or all day Sunday. This is the lowest rate ever. (Interesting comparison: The first transcontinental phone call, made in 1915, cost $20.70.)

And service today is faster and more convenient than ever before.

Better service at lower cost; we think that's a winning combination. Don't you?
